Strong On and Dodo Cop set our Hash in a new place for everyone– in a Sugar Estate in the area of Petite & Grande Retraite in the North East of the Island. We set off along the fringes of the village and then into the estate, being careful with some very rocky paths and descents. Another Great Location with Runner's and Walker's Trails!

The Mr Banglestein Award went to Isabelle who protested that she arrived first at the On.. On..

Sorry it's not first to arrive but Last to Pay that receives the Award!

"Here's to Mr Banglestein....."

But I'm not a man she protested!

"Here's to Mr Banglestein, Dirty Old Man"

Perhaps we should have a female version of our song!

After a bit of fiddling Shakesbeer managed to get her music system working and we had a Limbo Competition Session.

Lord Russell and Alyson volunteered to hold the Stick.

Many tried but few succeeded to correctly dance bent over backwards and get under and through the pole. It was good fun enjoyed by all.

Below Marlow presented the Cow Bell to Vikash

The GM presented farewell gifts to the Nixons for their contributions to the Hash as RA and Edit Hare and thanked them for all their efforts.

The whole Hash wished them well and encouraged them to come back for a visit.

The GM brought Mario out to be "Named" and Blessed by the RA.

Left Hash Market had a Special Sale Event that brought out the Cash from the Hashers.

Harry & Jean presented the T-Shirt option for the Hash Bash/700th Run—better quality cotton—approved by Harry.

Then there was an explosion of expressions from Tusia on the colour of the T-Shirt - white. She stated that she had been Hashing for 21 years and for the last 18 years she has been wearing a Yellow T-Shirt at every Hash she attended. Now she wants to buy another one!- but it must be yellow. Why must T-Shirts always be white! (actually they have not always been white - and David was wearing one of the GM's designed yellow T-Shirts. She then proposed a Hash Competition to Design a T-Shirt. She said that there are lots of talented people at the Hash who could design one.

Sponsorship was raised by Alyson, suggesting that as she knows someone at Phoenix Beverages she could raise the issue of sponsorship with them.
